

CHRISTINA

For people who are considering taking junior lab, I think some people are scared or don't want to take it if they want to be like a theoretical physicist. But I think even though you want to be a theorist in the future, it's still helpful to know about the experimental side and learn about how to do experiments and how it works.

WANG: